Dear Sirs:

I desire your advice and estimate of the cost of getting from London to Madrid the latter part of the coming May or early part of June. Other things being equal, or comparatively so, the minimum of expense would be the first consideration. Would it be possible to go from a channel port to Bordeaux - to Vigo, or via Lisbon?

Also, can you advise me as to the means of going from Barcelona (via Marseilles) to Naples by steamer, and give an estimate of cost? A delay of as much as three or four days at Marseilles would not be objectionable.

Very truly yours,

SPE/E
